Climate Change: Organizing the Science in the American Cordillera (CONCORD)

4-6 April 2006, Mendoza, Argentina

A symposium for researchers interested in Climate Change in the American Cordillera.

Organized byClimate Diagnostics Center, NOAA, Boulder, USA;
Instituto Argentino de Nivología, Glaciología y Ciencias Ambientales (IANIGLA), Mendoza, Argentina;
Office for Sustainable Development and Environment, Organization of American States Washington, D.C.;
The Mountain Research Initiative, Bern, Switzerland
For details on objectives, topics and First Call visit: http://www.ires.ubc.ca/projects/concord/

If you are interested in participating, please send an e-mail to mri@scnat.ch with

a) the top three specific topics, as listed in the First Call, of interest to you,
b) a very brief description of a presentation that you would like to make and its associated topic heading, and
c) updated contact information (name, affiliation, mailing address, phone numbers).

Such an e-mail will not be considered as registration, which will occur later, but will help the Organizing Committee sharpen the focus of CONCORD.
